In 2008, a comparison was conducted on the LCB's advertising rules based on a 2003 Center on Alcohol Marketing and Youth (CAMY) report. It was determined the LCB needed to update their alcohol advertising rules to reflect the agency's focus on public safety by minimizing youth access and exposure to alcohol advertising.

Karen reviewed the following recommended changes:

Replaced the preamble with more of an "intent". Plain talked.

September 16, 2009 Board Minutes

The following public comments were taken at this meeting; signup sheets attached.

Was there a small business impact study done?

- Karen explained that because these proposed rules do not require a cost to the licensee, there was not a study done.

Concern by wineries with trade name signage, who have been in their current location prior to schools, churches, and /or public playgrounds or athletic fields.

- Trade name signage is not included in these rules.

The Prevention Community asked if the three words, "nearest property boundary" could be included in 314.52.070 following "no outdoor advertising within 500 feet. Also interested in the introduction, as use of alcohol by youths, leads to the misuse of alcohol by adults. Many comments were heard regarding the misuse and abuse of youth in several communities and the devastation that has resulted, including innocent deaths, suicide, and dissent within families.

Concern regarding billboards and the need for clarification; include in the language a request that billboards are not included in this rulemaking.

- Karen stated that billboards are not included and will make sure that the appropriate language is added.

The wine industry states that they continue to work with the FTC and that there are self regulatory mechanisms in place and required of those in the membership.

Concern regarding 314-52-040B and cross promotions that companies offer. Several companies look at this as a business practice and state advertising cited as the tenth reason for youth consumption based on studies.

- Karen can provide reference to the studies that were used for these proposed rules to those concerned.

The question was asked if signage within the location, but visible from outside is included in the sign limits. Requested that the LCB review why Oregon recently repealed exactly what these rules are attempting to implement.

Concern regarding large events, sporting and entertainment facilities and the signage requirements.

Comments from several people requested that the signage be furthered to 1,000 or 1,500 feet from the property line, rather from the entrance to the school.

Karen explained that there will be a work session scheduled with the Board prior to going to adoption. Currently, Oct 7, 2009 is set as the date for adoption of the proposed rules, but can push out until October 14, 2009. Ruthann requested that the Center on Alcohol Marketing and Youth (CAMY) Report be used as best practice as its main focus was public safety and minimizing underage drinking.

The Board thanked Karen for her work and those that took time to attend the meeting and make comment.

The Board Meeting was adjourned at 11:40 AM.

For wineries and breweries, retailer and manufacturer listings and links are allowed on each other's Web sites.

Good Evening Board Members

Unfortunately I will not be able to attend tomorrow's Board meeting regarding the proposed advertising rules. Please know that the WRA continues to oppose the proposed rules for the reasons previously noted. Specifically, we continue to believe that the bulk of the proposed rules are far too subjective, vague, and broad in their scope and therefore raise significant constitutional and legal concerns. This vagueness will also will lead to substantial enforcement and interpretation issues and concerns for WRA members and will very likely have a significant drain on LCB staff resources. Has a small business impact statement been completed? And finally, we would ask if there is data that supports the premise that such regulations have the desired effect reducing underage consumption. Thank you for your consideration of these comments. I look forward to hearing how the meeting goes.
